

Michael Shamberg

Class of 1962

MICHAEL SHAMBERG is a movie, television, and digital video producer. He was nominated for a Best Picture Academy Award for producing Erin Brockovich and The Big Chill. He was the Executive Producer of two other movies which were nominated for Best Picture – Pulp Fiction and Django Unchained. Shamberg's other film credits include Contagion, Wish I Was Here, Get Shorty, Out of Sight, Gattaca, Reality Bites, World Trade Center, Garden State, Along Came Polly, The Skeleton Key, How High, A Walk Among the Tombstones, and A Fish Called Wanda.

Shamberg was also an Executive Producer of the Comedy Central TV show Reno 911. He is currently in pre-production on an AMC cable series called Into the Badlands. In addition to Shamberg's movie and TV productions, he is an advisor to BuzzFeed Motion Pictures working on digital storytelling. Finally, he has two movies that will be released this year – Freeheld starring Julianne Moore, Ellen Page, Michael Shannon, and Steve Carrell; and Adam Jones starring Bradley Cooper and Sienna Miller.

